

House Leaders Give Bipartisan Okay To Highway Plan

Sell-Bonds Program Dropped

Higher Taxes On Gas And Tires Proposed

WASHINGTON (INS) — Democratic and Republican House leaders agreed Friday to throw their full support behind a move to finance the multi-billion dollar highway program through higher taxes on gasoline, diesel fuel, tires and other highway use items.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas said President Eisenhower's proposal to pay for the program by selling government bonds has been "completely abandoned."

GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts told newsmen after a huddle with Rayburn: "It is a question of having no bill or paying for it with higher taxes. I am very much in favor of having a highway bill."

Administration O.K. Likely

Martin said he thinks the administration will approve of the tax features of the program. President Eisenhower has not yet recommended any specific method of financing the highway program, which he lists as one of the most important features of his domestic program.

Rep. Boggs (D-La.), a member of the Ways and Means Committee which handles tax legislation, will introduce the Democratic tax bill next week. The committee is expected to hold hearings on the measure the following week.

Rayburn indicated the tax bill will call for boosting the federal tax on gasoline from 2 to 3 cents a gallon and on diesel fuel from 2 to either 3 or 4 cents a gallon.

Truck Share Bigger?

The House speaker said he personally feels that the tax on tires should be raised for both passenger cars and the heavier truck tires—but added that he believes the levy should be more for the trucks.

The Democratic version of how to build the highway system was introduced Thursday and calls for a $1½ billion dollar outlay. Of this, the government would pay 37½ billion dollars and the states would raise the rest.

HYNNING QUICKLY RESIGNS

... After Reinstatement

WASHINGTON (INS) — Clifford J. Hynning was reinstated as a Treasury Department attorney Friday, 19 months after being dismissed as a "security risk." He promptly resigned.

The case had been reopened last September after former Sen. Harry Cain of Washington had sharply criticized official actions in connection with it.

Hynning could not be reached for comment Friday, but it was reported he plans to continue the private practice of law here.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), chairman of a Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee, said he was gratified that "justice has been done" in the Hynning case, but he added he was amazed that the Treasury "had not seen fit to utter one word of apology or regret for the two-year ordeal to which it subjected Mr. Hynning."

"Careful Review"

A Treasury announcement said Hynning was restored to duty after reconsideration of his case and a "careful review of the entire record." It added that Hynning immediately offered his resignation and it was accepted.

Hynning's job paid $9,600 a year at the time of his dismissal. The salary has been increased since. Although Treasury officials would not say how much back pay was involved, it was estimated to be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Night Hunting Of Game Said Illegal

An item in Friday morning's Star discussing night-hunting of jack rabbits in Nebraska stated that "Night hunting is legal in this state," and has, according to the State Game Commission, been erroneously interpreted by many Star readers to cover all types of hunting, game and non-game animals alike.

The law, points out the Game Commission, is that no game bird or animal may be taken at night. Night-hunting presents extremely dangerous possibilities to the farmer's livestock and to the farmer and hunter as well, and thus in the best interest of safety for all concerned, is discouraged.

Construction Switch For Dam Given Approval

WASHINGTON (INS) — A House Committee gave qualified approval to a proposal to switch construction authorization of the proposed Red Willow Dam in Nebraska to the Bureau of Reclamation. Red Willow originally was assigned to the Engineers.

Supreme Court Reverses, Sends Back City Case

The State Supreme Court Friday reversed and remanded a case concerning condemnation of a tract of land on 50th Street between O and N Streets in Lincoln.

City Attorney Jack Pace said the case will be tried again. Anna I. Marshall of Lincoln had been awarded $6,000 for the right of the city to take a strip 300 feet long and 30 feet wide to extend 50th Street.

Pace said the city appealed the case because the amount was considered excessive.

Two other cases were ruled on: Nemaha County: Rodolph M. Campbell, Albert S. Johnston and Juanita L. Johnston vs. Ohio National Life Insurance Co., suit involving two tracts of land in Nemaha County, affirmed in part, and in part reversed and remanded.

Red Willow County: In application of Dale Williams, realtor, vs. Ira A. Williams and Matilda Williams, District Court judgment granting custody of Dale Ira Williams to Ira A. and Matilda Williams, upheld.

The bill, by Rep. Abernathy (D-Miss), also authorizes an increase from 15 million dollars to 17 million in federal funds for brucellosis eradication in cattle.

Pool Protest Petition Filed With Mayor

A petition containing 37 signatures in protest to the location of a swimming pool in the southeast part of Irvingdale Park has been received in the office of Mayor Clark Jeary.

The petition was circulated by Joseph J. Hlava of 1927 Van Dorn, and submitted by Theodore H. Kurth of 2811 So. 20th.

The document stated, "We, the undersigned, wish to protest the location of a neighborhood swimming pool in Irvingdale Park. We are opposed because of the devaluation of our property which would be caused by the nearness of such a pool with its attendant noise and increase in traffic on the already heavily traveled street of Van Dorn."

The City Council has informally approved the location of the pool at a spot about 200 feet north of Van Dorn between 19th and 20th in the park. Contracts may be before the Council Monday for the hiring of engineers to prepare plans for a pool at that location.

Omahan Dies, 2 Others Hurt

BOLIVAR, Mo. (INS) — An Omaha girl was killed and two other persons injured Friday when their car left a highway 2½ miles west of here.

Killed in the accident was Miss Delores Marquez, 16, Omaha.

Critically injured was Miss Jacqueline Steele, Omaha. Her father, James J. Steele, 50, driver of the car, suffered serious injuries.

Steele, president of Teamsters Local No. 255 of Omaha, said his car ran off the highway and struck a culvert. The car overturned and landed on its top in a 9-foot ditch.

Steele suffered a compound fracture of the right leg. His daughter, suffered facial fractures and concussion. Both were taken to Burge Hospital at Springfield.

The three were enroute to Seymour, Mo., where the Steele's recently had purchased a farm. Mrs. Steele and a son already were at the farm.

Stripper Candy Barr Arrested, Hubby Shot

Troy Phillips, from whom the curvaceous Candy has been separated for several weeks, was in serious condition in a hospital.

Miss Barr was charged with assault to murder and bond was set at $10,000. It was posted by the owner of the night club where she performs.

Miss Barr, 22, accused her husband of battering down the door to her apartment at 5:30 a.m. She told officers she fired once with a .22 caliber rifle.

Police Plan Concentrated Auto Search

OMAHA (INS) — The police auxiliary will be called into the Carolyn Nevins murder case Saturday in the search for a 1948 Pontiac, Chief of Police Harry Green said.

The chief said he would ask auxiliary members to help process registration slips in the license bureau at the Courthouse. They will be asked to report for work Saturday morning and to remain until all registrations are checked.

Police then will contact the owners.

A car of that make and year reportedly was seen on the University of Omaha campus about 11:05 p.m. Dec. 9, the night the 20-year-old coed was slain.

The man, a truck driver, also said he was sure he saw a girl who resembled Miss Nevins at the Dodge St. bus stop and believed a man was standing near her.

Police said earlier in the investigation that the man had said he saw a car parked about 25 feet in the university driveway off Dodge St. and facing south. Miss Nevins body was found in the driveway.

Two Boys Found Delinquent; Two Girls Committed

Two Lincoln teenage boys, who admitted writing about $400 worth of bad checks since last September, were found to be delinquent Friday by the Lancaster County Juvenile Court.

The 16-year-old, who was on probation with the court, was committed to the Boy's Training School at Kearney.

The 15-year-old was placed on probation with the Douglas County Juvenile Probation office and placed in the temporary custody of Omaha relatives.

In other cases, two Lincoln girls, ages 17 and 14, were committed to the Girl's Training School at Geneva after a finding of delinquency in connection with extended periods of misconduct and illicit relations.

The 17-year-old, the court was told, has had two illegitimate children. The 14-year-old was involved with a 20-year-old youth and had previous relationships with others.

Republicans 'Shocked' At Neuberger

WASHINGTON (INS) — Republicans expressed shock, and shouted, "improper" in the Senate today in criticizing Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) for suggesting that "panicky" Republicans might try to use drugs if necessary to keep President Eisenhower active in the 1956 campaign.

Sen. Knowland of California, GOP floor leader, said he was "deeply shocked" that the Oregonian would make such a statement in a new letter to constituents.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.), chairman of the Senate GOP Campaign Committee, had called the Senate's attention to the news letter. He agreed when Knowland said the letter "casts a reflection on the President" in even suggesting that he would allow anything like that to be done.

Eight Hours Sleep

The White House, without any reference to the Senate outburst, said Eisenhower is averaging about eight hours sleep a night since his heart attack, for probably the first time in his adult life.

The President used to be able to sleep no more than about six hours, said James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary. He was responding to newsmen's inquiries about how the heart seizure has changed the President's day-to-day schedule. Eisenhower now is in the process of testing his strength and endurance in connection with making up his mind whether to seek re-election.

As for getting eight instead of six hours' sleep, Hagerty said the reason is not sedatives of any kind. "He's just getting used to it," the secretary said.

Minnesota Youths Plead Guilty; Stole Policeman's Auto

Two Minneapolis, Minn., youths pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to theft of an auto belonging to a Lincoln policeman.

The youths, Donald LaQuier, 13, and Vic Ahlberg, 17, admitted stealing a 1951 auto belonging to Policeman Dale Adams from the parking lot behind the Lincoln police station last Wednesday.

They were apprehended in the auto near Elba, Neb., by the Nebraska Safety Patrol and were returned to Lincoln by Adams.

The youths told authorities they had traveled from Minneapolis to Lincoln by bus, but were running short of funds for their planned trip to California.

The youths didn't know, they said, that they had taken the car from behind the police station, but took the first car they found with keys in the ignition.

District Judge John L. Polk deferred sentence proceedings pending a report by the adult probation officer.

CHICAGOAN, 17, ADMITS HE KILLED COP

CHICAGO (INS) — A 17-year-old AWOL Army private related Friday he shot and killed one detective and wounded another because he was "too hot" when they tried to question him.

Pvt. Donald Lawrence, Chicago Negro, in a written confession said he shot and killed Lyons Kelliher, 43, and shot and wounded William A. Derrig, 38, when they tried to question him during a routine narcotics investigation in the bar of the Boulevard Hotel on the West Side Wednesday night.

Lawrence, brought to Chicago early Friday from the Ft. Sheridan stockade, said he had held up a tavern a short time earlier and had his .38 caliber revolver in his pocket when he walked into the bar. He said the bartender told him, "You're awfully young to be in this place, aren't you?"

"At that time in came two officers and I got scared right away," Lawrence's statement said.

"There I was with four counts against me. One, I was AWOL. Two, I was too young to be in the place. Three, I had a gun. Four, I was hot after a robbery."

A Negro policeman, Julian Ford, 32, was given credit for solving the case.

Hagerty Calls Statement By Drew Pearson 'Scurrilous Lie'

By GARDNER L. BRIDGE

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, Friday denounced as a complete falsehood and a "scurrilous lie" a columnist's statement that Eisenhower had intervened in the Al Sarena timberland case.

The columnist, Drew Pearson, replied that he is confident "time will prove the facts I reported."

Hagerty referred to a column by Pearson which appeared in subscriber newspapers Thursday.

Pearson wrote: "I have always wondered why Secretary McKay was in such a hurry to sell this valuable piece of Douglas fir worth over $200,000 for only about $2,270, on the flimsy excuse that it was needed for gold mining. Other secretaries of the interior had refused to sell." He went on:

"McKay, though nicknamed 'Generous Doug,' is not usually quite that generous. In this case, however, he had an interesting little note direct from the President."

"Buried in the Senate Interior Committee files is an interesting letter, which was picked up when the Senate subpoenaed the records of Secretary McKay."

"It's a letter from a friend of President Eisenhower's addressed to him, asking that the Al Sarena section of the Rogue River National Forest be released to the McDonald family."

"Across the letter in his own handwriting President Eisenhower had scribbled 'Dear Doug.' Then followed a personal request from Ike to Doug to see what he could do about granting the Rogue River request."

Volunteered Statement

Hagerty volunteered the following statement at a news conference with a request that it be used by newspapers that published the Pearson column:

"The story is a complete falsehood and in my opinion a scurrilous lie."

"There is no such letter in existence," Hagerty said, adding that Senate Interior Committee staff members had testified to that effect under questioning by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Pearson then issued this statement:

"The first time Hagerty denied one of my stories was in October, 1953, when I reported Eisenhower had a heart condition. The second time Hagerty took me to task was in connection with the report on the Bikini bomb test, after which he telephoned me to apologize for what he had said."

"I am confident that time will prove the facts I reported in the Rogue River National Forest case also to be accurate."

Committee Investigating

A Senate-House committee is investigating the transaction under which 300 acres of the Rogue River National Forest in Oregon were patented in January, 1954, to Al Sarena Mines, Inc. The mining firm is headed by Charles P. and Herbert McDonald of Mobile, Ala.

Critics contend the grant was a "giveaway," saying that timber on the tracts is worth far more than the firm paid for mining patents. Administration supporters reply that the giveaway charges are a smear.

Undersecretary Clarence A. Davis took responsibility for the transaction in testimony before the committee. He said the Interior Department had no choice under the law.

Several Interior Department officials and Senate committee aides denied they had seen any letter bearing a "Dear Doug" memo from Eisenhower. Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said he had checked Senate and House committees and no such letter exists.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) demanded during the session that Pearson be called before the committee and asked for the source of his information. This was overruled by Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore), acting chairman, on the ground it would be an infringement of freedom of the press.

Deportation Is Faced By Tokyo Rose

WASHINGTON (INS) — An unprecedented deportation proceeding was announced Friday against Tokyo Rose, the siren-voiced, American-born broadcaster for Japan during World War II.

The woman, whose real name is Mrs. Iva Ikuko Toguri D'Aquino, was convicted of trying to lure GIs into deserting their lonely Pacific outposts.

She is scheduled to leave the Federal Women's Reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., Saturday after completing her 10-year treason sentence, with time off for good behavior.

Fine Legal Question

Immigration officials plan to go to Alderson to serve her with a deportation warrant to test the fine legal question whether a natural-born American can be ordered out of the country.

Since the Revolutionary War there have been only nine treason convictions in civil courts and none was followed by deportation action, so far as available records show.

Immigration officials said Friday that Mrs. D'Aquino lost her American citizenship when she was convicted at San Francisco in 1949. They added that her release raises a question whether she now becomes "an undesirable resident alien" subject to deportation.

Tokyo Rose is now 39. Of Japanese parentage, she was born an American citizen in Los Angeles on July 4, 1916.

Citizenship By Mail

It is a good rule that government runs most satisfactorily when citizens make it a point to be present and attentive. But that isn't always so. Sometimes it is better to practice mail order citizenship.

Applicants in person for auto registrations at the Lancaster County court house are lined up six deep which is surely very close to saturation point. One wonders what it would be if the Motor Vehicle Division were not accepting registrations by mail.

Weekend figures given out by Division Chief Ralph Saathoff show that 7,000 registrations out of 24,000 have been processed by mail, and that the backlog of mail orders stands at between 3,000 and 4,000.

While Saathoff said the proportion of mail to personal registrations stands about at last year's level the popularity of the more convenient register-by-mail service gathers evidence by its growth almost to the 33 per cent mark.

There is no gainsaying the convenience of dealing in registrations by mail. A study also of service costs would show a public economy. Perhaps it is a negative way of keeping down public costs, but it is constructive nevertheless. And it must be said that if all phases of the public budgets would yield to similar, effortless, treatment the nation would quickly enjoy tax relief in a delightful measure.

Now They're Eating It

They are getting personal in this Nebraska-Iowa "pork lift" competition—that is, they are now trying to out-eat each other as an added filip to outselling each other.

At Cozad where pork sales were lagging, delegations from Gothenburg, Lexington and Brady arrived with open pocketbooks and put Nebraska out in front over rival Audubon, Ia., by almost a ton and a half.

And then to emphasize Nebraska's redoubtable Cozad farmer Donald Short sat down to a dinner and stowed away six pounds and nine ounces of ham, washed down with bread and milk. Meantime, Audubon's first ranking eater, Lloyd Coffman, got to four pounds and 10 ounces at which point he lost interest in Pork Lift in general and Iowa prestige in particular. He simply said he had enough: It is doubtful that Iowa will be able to muster anyone else who can give our man Short a run for his money. However, Audubon is rushing in Iowa Governor Hoegh as its last clear hope. If he wins the problem of surplus pork will be solved. He will have it inside of him.

This much can be said of Operation Pork Lift. It has been fun. Nebraska and Iowa never got along better. The problem of too much pork has been well dramatized. Most of the surplus still exists and will continue to vex the nation. But now it is the turn of Congress. If it does as well as these high spirited Iowa and Nebraska communities the pork producing industry will get back soon on even keel and the corn-hog states will have brighter days ahead. Let us hope so.

One Of Two Choices

Lancaster County Commissioner Russell Brehm, chairman of the county board, has persuaded himself that no time should be lost in submitting a bond issue for the construction of a new city-county building. Mr. Brehm seems to feel that the issue should go on the ballot at the very earliest opportunity.

If the people reject the bonds—that's that, Commissioner Brehm reasons. In his eyes it means that the county board should then proceed without delay to developing of an extensive—in dentally, an expensive—program for repair and renovation of the present courthouse—costing a cool half million dollars to place an obsolete building in acceptable condition.

That is the way Mr. Brehm and possibly some of his board associates see it, although the conclusion set forth does not necessarily represent the wishes of the people of Lincoln and Lancaster County, nor are those two alternatives a fair interpretation possibly of public feeling with respect to a new city-county building. Mr. Brehm seems to overlook the fact that Lancaster County suffered severely from drought last summer, cutting sharply into corn yields. He brushes aside the fact that farm commodity prices have been depressed to contribute their bit to the squeeze in which farm families now find themselves. And finally he chooses to overlook that while recent snow has improved soil conditions in Lancaster, when it comes to crop prospects we are not out of the woods by any means and the people of the rural areas particularly might crave the opportunity to study prospects for 1956 before passing judgment on a bond issue which at the minimum might embody the expenditure of a substantial amount of public funds. We need a new structure to house the activities of Lancaster County's government and provide facilities for Lincoln's city government, but a delay of a year or two is by no means fatal. We have gotten along pretty well as it is and if necessary, we can get along for a year or two more without too much hardship and sacrifice. Regardless of Commissioner Brehm's view, should the voters refuse to approve construction of a new city-county building in this uncertain atmosphere that exists, it is no verdict that the county board should proceed without delay to spend half a million dollars on improving and renovating a building which in the end will have to be replaced. When and if a new city-county building is constructed, it should be the purpose of the two governing bodies to eliminate any duplication possible in the existing governments in the interest both of economy and efficiency. There is a lot to be done in common-sense spirit before we start to throw dirt for a new city-county building.

Editorial Of The Day

The Task Ahead

(From The "St. Louis Post-Dispatch")

A warning on national defense that should be widely heeded is contained in the annual report of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics which President Eisenhower sent to Congress on Monday. It declared that "our national security may well depend" on research in atomic energy for aircraft propulsion and in developing intercontinental missiles.

It was only two weeks ago that Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army Chief of Staff, said that it was now a matter of "national necessity" that America achieve as soon as possible a ballistic missile with a 1500-mile range. And just about the same time, Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, who did so much to develop the atomic-powered submarine, warned that the time lag between invention and production of new weapons might well be the determining factor in the unfortunate event of a war.

The unveiling at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Lincoln laboratory last week of the hitherto top secret electronic brain, which is designed to ward-off any surprise aerial attack, may well give rise to the feeling that this nation is right on its toes and quite safe. But there have been too many warnings from American scientists that whatever can be developed here can also be speedily developed in Russia. Wonderful as the great digital computer of the Lincoln laboratory is, it is well to remember that Russia was not far behind in the atomic and hydrogen bomb race and that it is still an open question as to whether her air force is ahead of our Air Force. Moscow may well have her own digital computers. The best safety lies in pushing scientific progress with utmost diligence until world disarmament becomes a reality.

GOP Solons Give Dulles Going Over

WASHINGTON — Though it's the Democrats who have been lambasting Secretary of State Dulles publicly, certain Republicans have been even more vitriolic privately. Two top Republican senators, Bridges of New Hampshire and Knowland of California, were so vigorous during a closed-door luncheon on Capitol Hill that at one point Dulles complained:

"I made the decision. I am secretary of state."

The argument was over Robert R. Bowie, a Harvard professor and a Republican, whom Dulles wants to promote to be assistant secretary of state. Bowie was appointed by the Eisenhower administration.

At first his name was sent to the Senate for confirmation listed as a resident of Maryland. Bowie is an old Maryland name, and a town in that state is named for the family. Then Dulles discovered that he would have the opposition of the two Republican senators from Maryland, Butler and Beale, so Bowie's name was hastily withdrawn, then sent back to the Senate as a resident of Massachusetts.

Bowie used to live at Cambridge, Mass., while teaching at Harvard, and kindly Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts was willing to back him.

Not, however, Bridges and Knowland. This geographic switcheroo only made them madder. Summoning the secretary of state to Knowland's office for lunch, they indicated that they were in anything but agreement with Eisenhower's description of Dulles as the "best secretary of state I have ever known."

A MISERABLE LUNCH

"What's the use of making an agreement with us about clearing appointments if you don't intend to keep them?" Bridges asked.

"Well, I already had a prior commitment," Dulles begged off.

"I don't see how you can appoint a man who holds views about foreign policy which are contrary to your own and to those of the President," remarked Knowland.

He referred to Bowie's view that the United States should recognize Red China — if she changes her tactics and if she returns American prisoners — in an effort to drive a wedge between Red China and Russia.

Dulles admitted that Bowie's views did not entirely coincide with his own — though, privately, senators doubt this is true. They remember how Dulles's law partner, Arthur Dean, definitely favored recognition of Red China, and how Dulles in a private press meeting early in the Eisenhower administration indicated that recognition of Red China was eventually necessary.

"His duties," explained the secretary of state, referring to Bowie, "won't be essentially different from what he is doing today." Finally when Bridges and Knowland were adamant and asked that the nomination be withdrawn, Dulles flared up:

"I made the decision. I am the Secretary of State."

"Your term as secretary of state runs for a year," countered Bridges.

In Step With The Sower

Two state employees, probably known to fewer of their fellow employees than any in the building yet constantly in the public eye, are the two full-time painters who constantly fight to stop the deterioration to the beautiful building caused by weather.

As an example of how busy they are kept, during the past year they have spread more than 1,000 gallons of paint and 200 gallons of varnish.

Doors that had dried to the cracking point were restored to their original beautiful sheen and softness by the varnish the two applied. They are trying to make up for what is admitted was far too many years of neglect.

At present, they are working in the suite of the governor, washing away the dust and grime that has been accumulating for several years. The rich golden ceilings that had gradually turned tan are once more available to public gaze.

"I never knew there was a row of eels of corn carved around the ceiling," one interested Statehouse veteran remarked as he watched the unveiling of the rooms beauty.

Life is not made easy for the duo by reason of wearing the uniform of their trade—white overalls.

It is the same uniform that has been adopted for inmates of the state penitentiary. Trusted inmates are frequently brought to the Capitol to perform various tasks so that their presence is easily recognized by most employees.

As a result, the painters are often questioned by other employees regarding the penitentiary, particularly during the recent riots.

One told of hearing the other extreme when convicts were being used for lawn work. "I think it is pretty extravagant, when the state hires painters at high union wages to pull weeds in the lawn," one pert miss remarked to a friend.

"Maybe it even up," one of the painters explained ruefully.

ges. "I am in the Senate for five years definitely and I may be here longer. We, as senators, have responsibilities and intend to live up to them."

Dulles went back to his desk at the State Department.

"I've had a very miserable lunch up there at the Capitol," he told friends.

HARD-WON MEDAL

A lot of sweat has gone into the gold medal which Health, Education, and Welfare Secretary Marion Folsom presented to Dr. Jonas Salk last week.

First, the medal almost died aborning after it was suggested by Rep. Irwin Davidson (D-NY) because, while Congress okayed the idea, it then forgot to appropriate the $2,500 needed to pay an artist and reimburse the Treasury for the minting.

Worried that Dr. Salk might not get his medal, Rep. Davidson buttholed Treasury Secretary George Humphrey.

"Look here," said the congressman, a prominent Manhattan attorney. "It would be a heck of a thing if we didn't get that medal awarded in time for the March of Dimes this January. How about letting me put up the $2,500?"

Humphrey, however, refused, insisting that there was no provision in the law permitting a private individual to lend money to the U.S. Treasury.

With the March of Dimes fast approaching and with a congressional appropriation impossible because Congress was out of session, Davidson went into a huddle with Basil O'Connor of the polio foundation. Together they came up with an idea that Humphrey finally decided was legal.

Davidson is still hoping for an appropriation bill, and if one is passed the "anonymous citizen" will get his $2,500 back. In that case the $2,500 will go to the March of Dimes.

CAPITOL NEWS CAPSULES

Jet-Engine Snafu—The General Accounting Office has prepared a detailed accounting of government expenses which will be released by Congress at the end of the month. One of the most interesting items in this report concerns the overprocurement of jet engines. The GAO report claims that one contract alone was cut back, saving the taxpayers between $40 and $60 million. Another $10 million worth of jet engines were also canceled. These engines had already become out of date even before they were scheduled for production.

Russian Farm Production — The American embassy has warned that Russia will be producing more grain than the United States by 1960 under the newest Soviet five-year plan. The Russians are reported to be seriously about their drive to boost farm production, even if they have to move 100,000 more factory workers into the fields. The Russians are concentrating on tractor production in order to mechanize all farms and by 1960 will be turning out 325,000 tractors a year—three times as many as Britain.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Father, I Know That All My Life

Father, I know that all my life
Is portioned out for me,
The changes that will surely come
I do not fear to see;
I ask Thee for a present mind,
Intent on pleasing Thee.

I ask Thee for a thoughtful love
Through constant watching, wise,
To meet the glad with joyful smiles,
And wipe the weeping eyes,
A heart at leisure from itself,
To soothe and sympathize.

I would not have the restless will
That harries to and fro,
That seeks for some great thing to do
Or secret thing to know,
I would be treated as a child,
And guided where I go.

Wherever in the world I am,
In whatsoever estate,
I have a fellowship with hearts
To keep and cultivate,
A work of lowly love to do
For Him on whom I wait.

By HORACE B. POWELL

"My Times Are In Thy Hand" was the title which Miss Anna Letitia Waring gave to this hymn of consecration when she published it, at the head of a list of poems in a collection of "Hymns and Meditations", in 1850.

The caption was taken directly from the Thirty-first Psalm.

Here is a hymn which should be sung and pondered by more men and women today. The world is changing so fast that many are bewildered. On every hand there is a faith-testing turmoil and crisis. But for those who have time to listen, God whispers words of comfort and peace. And the Bible verses which inspired Anna Waring still remind us that our lives are in His keeping, and that however much the world may change, He will continue to be the same forever.

Miss Waring was born in southern Wales in 1820. She was a niece of Samuel Waring, who was widely known for his hymn-writing. The verses cited above are among the best in her own collection.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Don't Blame Benson

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have read a lot of letters in The Star from the thoughtful and ill informed about the farm problem. One grieves because there is a population movement from farm to town, and damns Secretary Benson for driving farmers off their farms. This population movement has been going on for a hundred and fifty years but Secretary Benson has been in Washington only less than four.

Another grieves because farm prices have come down after the last war. As far as I know, they have come down after every war the United States ever fought. They blame Benson for that, too. I remember after World War I under Woodrow Wilson when the price of corn dropped from $1.90 per bushel to 35 cents. Where was Benson then?

The administration before Benson accumulated the greatest pile of wheat in the history of the world by paying artificially high prices for wheat that neither the nation nor the world needed. They ignored the fact that now with little hard manual labor left in this machine age, in the U.S.A. bread consumption per capita has declined to but a little more than half of what it used to be. Benson has tried hard to sell or give away the vast stores of food that the previous administration dumped into his lap, and now a lot of yaps say that the remedy is to increase the subsidies to wheat farmers and produce still more wheat.

There has been a change in food habits with regard to pork. People who watch their figures have switched from pork to beef. Which is why we had 20-cent steers and 11-cent pigs. Pork is said to be the poor man's meat. In these prosperous times we don't have as many poor as we once did. So as markets for farm products change, the farmer must change with them. Let's not damn Benson for trends about which he has had nothing whatever to do.

The Red Cross

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Bulletins from the Pacific flood area estimate more than 11,000 families will register with Red Cross for long-term disaster assistance. Red Cross expects to spend at least eight million dollars on its relief operations. Only 20 per cent was spent on emergency shelter, feeding and care, while 80 per cent is used for rehabilitation for which the families are applying. Rehabilitation includes grants to help in rebuilding and repairing homes, replacing furniture and small businesses.

After the eastern floods, less than one million dollars remains in national Red Cross disaster reserves. Lancaster County chapter Red Cross is supplying its proportionate share toward meeting family rehabilitation needs.

According to national figures, American Red Cross has spent or committed an all-time high of $27,553,200 since July 1, including 18 million for eastern floods and $8 million for Pacific floods.

All Red Cross assistance is free, and awards are reviewed before being granted by a local disaster review board in each community.

1955-56, American Red Cross 75th anniversary year, is one of the biggest disaster years in history. We thank each and every one whose contributions to the county chapter makes it possible to fill the needs of others in such violent emergencies as the recent floods.

Demos Labeled With Gas Bill

WASHINGTON — Senate roll calls on the natural gas bill will find the Democrats unhappy and deeply divided. The bill's fate will depend entirely upon Republican senators from the consuming states, such as Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Bush and Purtell of Connecticut.

If these men turn their backs on the business interests with which they are usually identified, the measure will fail. If they do not, it will pass and President Eisenhower will sign it.

But it will stand as a Democratic measure, the price of Texas leadership of the party in both House and Senate. Majority leader Johnson shrewdly took advantage of the election year necessities of two Democratic liberals — Monroney of Oklahoma and Fulbright of Arkansas — whom he persuaded to lead the fight for the bill, a circumstance Johnson enjoys rubbing into his liberal critics. Johnson has detached himself as much as possible, having actually spent nearly all the period of the debate vacationing in Florida.

Texans Johnson and Rayburn have the command posts however in Congress and the forces favoring the gas bill have benefited. These forces actually are among the President's strongest backers and the Democratic leaders did make some strenuous efforts to maneuver him into the picture too. But the White House was too cagey for them.

The President appointed one of those committees on the subject but forwarded its report to The Hill without comment. He also managed to avoid committing himself to the lobbies which have pressured Congress so incessantly.

The gas bill will hurt Democrats in the pivotal states where they win or lose elections. It does not fit their general philosophy as expressed in the New and Fair Deals. It impairs the effectiveness of their "giveaway" campaign cry, dealing as it does with natural resources not unlimited in quantity. The people it helps most are those often found in the GOP camp at election time.

All the leading candidates for president on the Democratic ticket are unhappy over it but found no way to make their opposition count. Sen. Kefauver has been absent during practically all of the Senate debate. Adlai Stevenson has kept hands off. Governor Harrison has no influence in the Senate.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hojer were REALLY surprised on Thursday evening when 40 of their friends, all in square-dancing costumes, descended upon them at their new home, 4325 D St. The group arrived about 8 o'clock and brought with them all of the necessary details for a late supper.

Mrs. Staton Carries On Tradition

When the very first word concerning a polio fund was uttered a good many years ago Mrs. J. W. Staton had an idea. Mrs. Staton's birthday anniversary, you see, is Jan. 30. Usually there was a celebration of some kind with family and friends, but Mrs. Staton decided that she would give her own birthday party—and that instead of bringing birthday gifts to her, her guests could donate to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Staton's birthday is next Monday, but she will do her celebrating on Sunday when she will be a tea hostess at her home between the hours of 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock—a tea to which all of her friends are invited. There will be no gaily wrapped packages for Mrs. Staton but we feel reasonably sure there will be numerous donations to the March of Dimes.

To Be Morning Bride

MISS SONJA GAMMON who becomes the bride of Delbert Peery at a 10 o'clock ceremony this morning at St. Mary's Cathedral.

With only members of the families and a small group of close friends attending the ceremony, the marriage of Miss Sonja Arleen Gammon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin K. Gammon, to Delbert Peery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peery, will take place this morning at St. Mary's Cathedral. Candles and winter blossoms will form a background for the ceremony which will be solemnized at 10 o'clock by the Rev. Conrad Marrama. Miss Catherine Gillespie will play the wedding music.

Miss Charlotte Gammon, aunt of the bride, will be the maid of honor and only attendant. Miss Gammon will wear ice-blue net over matching taffeta and will carry a bouquet of white carnations. She will complete her costume with a hair band of frock-toned net dotted with seed pearls.

Extension Club Meets

The members of the Lookout Extension Club held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. C. L. Thompson. Thirteen were present for the 1 o'clock luncheon and the afternoon lesson on curtains and draperies which was presented by Mrs. Jerry Eickmeier.

During the meeting each member contributed to the Polio Fund. On Feb. 21, the group will meet at the home of Mrs. Marvin Burcham.

Had Change In Program

When the members of the Soroptimist Club met on Wednesday evening they thought they would hear Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme speak on "The Status of Women." Much to their surprise the program, which doubtless would have covered many phases of women's activities, was narrowed down to one specific category—by James A. Schulte, introduced by Miss Anna Evans, who spoke on "Automation—The New Era, and Women's Place in It."

Mrs. Orme, it seems, was stricken with the flu at the last moment and could not be present.

Meeting

The members of the Cambridge-Lincoln Club met for luncheon at the Kopper Kettle, Lindell Hotel, on Thursday afternoon. Places were arranged for 24 and following the luncheon the afternoon was spent informally. In charge of the arrangements was Mrs. Eida Wallace, president of the group.

Club Holds Luncheon

The members of the Friendship Club were entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Friday when Mrs. D. T. Venter was hostess at her home. Following the luncheon a short business meeting was held after which Mrs. L. Seymour gave a paper on "The History of Valentines in the United States." The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to games at which prizes were won by Mrs. Arthur Beckman, Mrs. E. A. Bohlman and Mrs. C. L. Burchess.

Cathedral Ceremony

MISS MARCELLA ANN STANDER whose marriage to Norman Leybold will be solemnized at 11 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's Cathedral.

For the wedding of Miss Marcella Ann Stander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Stander of Greenwood, and Norman Alfred Leybold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Leybold, which will take place this morning, the altar and chancel of St. Mary's Cathedral will be appointed with pink Demure roses and white carnations. The 11 o'clock ceremony will be solemnized by the Rev. John Flynn, and Miss Catherine Gillespie, organist, will play the wedding music, and also will accompany the vocal soloist, Louis Demma.

Wearing alike frocks of crystalite in the raspberry tone, the attendants will include Miss Marilyn Rudder, the maid of honor; Miss Joan Hauck and Miss Dorothy Leybold, sister of the bridegroom, the bridesmaids. The costumes are fashioned with fitted bodices and wide, waltz-length skirts. Each will carry a bouquet of white carnations and pink Demure roses.

Earl Potter of Cozad will serve Mr. Leybold as best man, and the ushers are Virgil Thaler and Dell Goodwin.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of sheer net and Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice is designed with an off-shoulder neckline, contoured with an applique of lace, which slips into brief sleeves. The lace is repeated in a quintet of flounces to complete the voluminous, floor-length skirt. Her tiered veil of illusion is fingertip length and is held to the head with a calot of lace and illusion. She will carry a white prayerbook marked with white orchids.

After a reception, held in St. Mary's Hall, Mr. Leybold and his bride will leave for a honeymoon trip to Kansas City, and upon their return the couple will reside at 1644 No. 31st St. For traveling the bride will wear a navy and white frock, with navy accessories.

THE name Kenneth Evett may give you pause for thought—until you learn that he is the artist who has done the murals at the State Capitol—"Square Bull" included. Mr. Evett is in town this week—He came from Syracuse, N.Y., to assist in the placing of the murals, but has become quite involved as a popular guest among art groups.

On Friday afternoon there was an informal coffee for Mr. Evett at Morrill Hall, and invitations for the affair went to members of the University of Nebraska faculty, members of the Nebraska Art Association, the Lincoln Artists Guild, and so on.

Honoring Mr. Evett this evening will be the members of the Nebraska Art Association Board who have planned an hors d'oeuvres party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Everett Angle. The guest list will include only members of the NAA board.

Colonial Tea Is Planned

At a meeting of the board of Deborah Chapter, D.A.R., held on Friday morning, plans were discussed for a Colonial Tea to be held on Feb. 22, at the Governor's Mansion. During the morning board session an award was presented Van Wright, a grade school pupil in the Lincoln public schools, for his essay on "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere." The contest gave grade children in the public schools a choice of topics—an historical event—or an American hero.

It was announced that on Friday, Feb. 3, there will be a luncheon for the Deborah Avery membership.

marriage to Richard Bennett will take place on Feb. 11—But the high spot in Miss Dosek's weekend is the arrival of her fiancé who planned in from Kansas City on Friday evening.

Friday evening also meant a courtesy for Miss Dosek—a dessert supper and a miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Kenneth Kimmel and her daughter, Mrs. Tracy Clark of Manhattan, Kan., were hostesses. A guest eighty-some was invited.

TODAY Miss Dosek will go to Beatrice where she will be honored at a luncheon for which Mrs. Axel M. Steen and Mrs. Clarence Bruce will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Steen. Following the luncheon the 24 guests will present the bride-elect with a miscellaneous shower.

JUST learned that Dr. and Mrs. John A. Brown, III, will entertain a small group of guests at an hors d'oeuvres party at their home preceding the 100 Club Mardi Gras affair at Hotel Cornhusker.

SPEAKING of dancing clubs — The committee for the Mr. and Mrs. Dancing Club dinner dance is announced this morning—Serving as chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. George Heggen who are assisted in planning the party arrangements by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ebeling, Mr. and Mrs. John Hagerman, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hammang, Mr. and Mrs. Al Huepelsheuser and Mr. and Mrs. Chick Otto.

If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Dons After 40th Win For Record

By CHRIS EDMONDS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Big Bill Russell & Co., the nation's No. 1 basketball team for the last two seasons, shoot for an all-time major college consecutive victory record tonight.

Russell and his cohorts, the University of San Francisco Dons, travel across San Francisco Bay to meet the University of California at Berkeley, and are heavily favored to add triumph No. 40 to their string which stretches back to Dec. 17, 1954.

The 6-10 Russell, All-America center a year ago and considered a cinch to repeat, and guards K. C. (Casey) Jones and Hal Perry are survivors of last year's national championship team which was beaten only by UCLA in 29 games. The two new forwards, a 6-4 Carl Boldt and 6-7 Mike Farmer, have filled the gaps in the starting lineup.

The Dons have knocked over a few pasties in compiling their 39-game winning state, but the list of victims includes a host of national college powers. Oregon State, the Pacific Coast Conference champion, fell twice last season. Beaten also were Stanford, UCLA, California, Utah, Colorado and LaSalle.

Link Gymnasts Slam Hastings

HASTINGS—Lincoln High gymnastics team, competing in a dual meet for the first time this season, beat Hastings 72-38 here Friday.

The Links, defending state champions, won all five events. There was no competition on the horizontal bars. Bob Martin, Dick Byers, Whitey Ulrich, Dick Gilland and Jim Heffelfinger were the Lincoln winners.

Promising Pastrano, Spieser Battle To Draw In 10-Rounder

M I A M I, Fla. (AP) — Fancy Willie Pastrano and tough Chuck Spieser, two of the ring's most promising battlers, fought to a draw Friday night in a match that twice had the audience clapping for action.

Pastrano, the 20-year-old New Orleans hotshot who is being groomed for an eventual shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title, was never able to take charge until the final round, when he cut Spieser's left eye open with a slashing two-fisted attack.

Until then, neither fighter had landed a really effective blow. Spieser crowded Pastrano throughout the fight but was unable to line the dancing Willie up for a solid punch.

Referee Cy Gottfried voted Pastrano a 96-95 edge. Judge Fred Aaronson gave it to Spieser 96-95. Judge Stu Winston called it a 96-96 draw and The Associated Press also voted it all even, 97-97.

Pastrano weighed 182½, Spieser 171½.

Topeka Bid Backed By Extra Cash

Topeka's delegation to the Western League meeting at Colorado Springs Saturday will be armed with a good insurance policy when it makes a bid for the franchise vacated by Wichita.

It was announced Thursday that the new baseball corporation in Topeka had $56,000 cash in the bank. Topeka's goal in the civic fund-raising drive was $50,000.

A spokesman there said, "This thing is really snowballing. Interest is booming and a lot of skeptics are now jumping on the bandwagon."

Another source said Topeka had hopes of hitting $75,000 next week.

An indication of the activity in the Kansas capital city is the fact that $1,100 in $10 and $20 bills was received by the Chamber of Commerce through the mail Thursday.

"We're really rolling, we've met our goal and better and we're ready to go," Dick Snider, Capital sports editor and leader in the drive, said. "We'll be at Colorado Springs to get the franchise."

While Rapid City and Hutchinson both have said they'll be there, too, it's very likely that Topeka—now that it has its money—will win the majority vote and be the new WL city.

Eastern directors are solid in opposition to Rapid City, so Topeka should make the grade, particularly since it is impossible to delay drawing up a schedule and other associated things any longer.

McCook Wins In Overtime

McCOOK — It took the McCook Bisons an overtime to dispose of fighting Gothenburg here Friday night, 62-56.

The score was tied at 52-52 with less than a minute to play when Larry Rich put McCook ahead with a fielder. Then Norm Lambertus cast a long 40-footer just as the buzzer sounded. It connected to send the game into overtime.

Gothenburg drew first blood in the extra period on Bill Peck's fielder but Ernie Hackenkamp tied it for McCook and Rich sent McCook ahead to stay on a two-point lead. Allen Smith iced things with two freethrows and a field goal.

Bob Campbell led McCook with 19 while Mabertus got 18 for Gothenburg.

Washington U. Coach Fired

SEATTLE (AP) — Johnny Cherberg, center of a player revolt that began in November, was dismissed Friday as head football coach at the University of Washington.

The dismissal was announced by Athletic Director Harvey Cassill after a conference with Cherberg. He said the dismissal is effective immediately.

Cassill said he took the action under authority given him by the university board of regents at a Dec. 10 meeting at which time it was decided to retain Cherberg.

The regents gave Cassill authority to deal with the situation as he saw fit in the future. The regents agreed to continue Cherberg's employment upon the coach's assurance that difficulties within the football program could be resolved amicably.

Cassill said it was his "considered judgment" that Cherberg had not satisfactorily resolved the problems which existed in December. He said it appeared that the turmoil, rather than subsiding, was increasing, causing damage to the reputation of the university not only in the athletic area but as a whole.

Doane Jars Chadron, 94-87

Chadron's loss moves Hastings into sole possession of first place in the NCC race with a 5-0 record. Chadron now has a 6-1 loop mark. The Broncos race improved Wesleyan in Lincoln tonight.

Norm Lastovica headed Doane scoring with a 21 point barrage while Chadron's Larry Lytle totaled 19.

First Gold Medals Won By German Woman, Finn

By TED SMITS
CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — A well-fed German fraulein and Finland's skiing "iron man" raced to the first gold medals and America experienced her darkest Olympic hour Friday in the seventh Winter Games.

Ossi Reichert, a 30-year-old Berlin cafeteria manager, dethroned the United States' Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence in the women's giant slalom ski race. Veikko Hakulinen, a wiry Finnish lumberjack, became a repeat champion by winning the exhausting 30-kilometer (18 miles, 1,128 yards) cross-country ski marathon.

They were the first titles decided as full-blown competition began.

Manna From Heaven

Snow fell like manna from heaven on the grim, starved peaks of these Dolomite Alps but even this could not bring consolation to the American camp, humbled in events in which it hoped to make a standstill showing.

The U. S. hockey team, rated just back of the favored Canadians and Russians, was upset by Czechoslovakia 4-3, beaten by a late goal, and now must whip Poland today or face elimination in the preliminary round-robin.

Mrs. Lawrence, a 23-year-old Marshall, Colo., housewife who has borne three children since her double Olympic triumph four years ago, could finish no better than a tie for fourth in the giant slalom while three other U. S. contenders were far out of the running.

Fare Miserably
Uncle Sam's two-man bobsleds, Waughtman (Bud) Washbond of East Hartford, Conn., and Art Tyler of Rochester, N. Y., fared miserably on their two opening runs down Cortin's twisting, 1,700 meter (1 mile, 109 yards) bobsled track and dropped well back of the streaking Italians.

An Italian jet pilot, mustachioed Lamberto Dalla Costa, outsped rivals from 15 nations with a total time of 2:44.45 on the two runs and his only serious challenger was a pint-sized teammate, Eugenio Monti, second at 2:45.26.

Slips Off Track

Washbond, with the 250-pound Pat Biesiadecki of Ware, Mass., at the brake, had runs of 1:24.82 and 1:24.15 for a total of 2:48.97, giving him fifth place. He slipped off the track on the first run. Tyler, accompanied by Edgar Seymour of Rochester, registered 1:25.41 and 1:23.77 for 2:49.18.

The final two runs are scheduled today with the championship determined on time totals. Only a miracle could beat the pacesetting Italians.

At the close of the day's activities, Russia, a strong favorite in its first winter games appearance, was tied with Finland and Germany for the lead in unofficial team standings with 10 points each. Austria had 9, Sweden 5 and the United States and Switzerland 2½ each.

Point Standing

There is no official team point scoring but the traditional formula gives 10 points for a championship and allots points on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis to the next five finishers.

Matters can only go from bad to worse for the Americans, until the figure skating, in which U. S. stars are favored, takes the ice Sunday.

Today the Russians are favored to finish 1-2-3 in the 10-kilometer (6 miles, 376 yards) ladies' cross-country ski race and sweep honors in the 500-meter (546 yards, 2 feet) speed skating, won last time by Chicago's Ken Henry.

Middlecoff, Demaret Even

By BOB MYERS
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Cary Middlecoff, with a brilliant display of iron shots, pulled up even with Jimmy Demaret at the 36-hole mark of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Golf Tournament Friday. Each had a 133 total.

Middlecoff toured the par 36-35-71 Thunderbird Country Club course in 35-31-66, and Demaret, the first-round leader, with a gallant comeback on the back nine, posted 37-32-69. Jimmy had a 64 Friday and Middlecoff a 67.

Thus the two go into the third round today with a two-stroke lead over their nearest challenger, Doug Ford, whose 69 gave him 135.

Tied at 136 were Julius Boros, with a 70, and Bill Ogden of Chicago, with a 68.

Demaret gave the gallery a thrill, and almost stroked himself into the undisputed lead, with an approach to the 18th green that left the ball 3½ feet from the pin. But when he putted, the ball rimmed and all but circled the cup and hung on the lip.

St. Cecilia Tops Gibbon Five, 55-47

GIBBON—Gibbon dropped a 55-47 Tri-Valley Conference game here Friday night to St. Cecilia of Hastings.

Quantity, Quality Of Omaha Hospitals Observed

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Some 30 civic, business and medical leaders from Lincoln visited expanding hospital facilities in Omaha to help determine the extent of need for a proposed development of a medical center here.

The tour was sponsored by the Lincoln Community Hospital Fund organization and arranged by Lincoln medical and hospital leaders. Emphasis on the trip was placed on the quantity of facilities in Omaha. But the quality of service was shown when the Lincoln group was conducted through the new Clarkson Memorial Hospital on the University of Nebraska College of Medicine campus.

The 300-bed capacity Clarkson unit cost nearly $5 million, site included. Conceded by the entire Lincoln group to be a lavish installation, it was explained by Clarkson administrators that the so-called fancy trim came from donation for that specific purpose and not otherwise available.

Room Rates
Daily room rates in Clarkson begin at $14.50 for a four bed ward, $15.50 and $16.50 for double rooms, $23.50 and $25 for deluxe private rooms and $32.50 on five special private rooms.

Rates in Lincoln hospitals range from $10 to $17 per day. At Clarkson, the group was told of the modern trend toward medical centers by Dr. Lowell Dunn, chairman of the building committee of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine.

Under Construction
Under construction on the campus is a $1 million nurses home and a $2 million rehabilitation center. Plans are made for a new memorial research laboratory.

The current medical rave, said Dr. Dunn, is toward an accumulation of special talents rather than one single leading force. The medical center idea, he said, is a team proposition with many experts working in harmony.

The tour took the Lincoln group through the grounds of St. Catherine's Hospital, Creighton Memorial, St. Joseph's Veterans Hospital, Nebraska Methodist, Immanuel Lutheran, St. Vincent's Geriatric Hospital and Home for Aged and the Douglas County Hospital and Home for Aged and the Douglas County Hospital.

2,000 Omaha Beds
General bed facilities in Omaha are estimated at about 2,000 as compared to less than 600 in Lincoln. Beds for all medical purposes in Omaha number around 5,000, it was reported.

Joe R. Seacrest, president of the Lincoln Community Hospital Fund, stressed the urgency for the need for development of a medical center in Lincoln. While some $15 million has been spent on hospital facilities in Omaha since World War II, he said, only about $1.5 million has been spent in Lincoln. It is hoped, he said, that the Fund organization can present a plan within a month for a combined medical center to all three Lincoln hospitals.

Administration Costs Third Of Cities' Taxes

About one-third of the tax money spent by cities in the state goes for general administration, a Nebraska Citizens Council survey shows.

The Council said in 17 representative cities an average of 34.1 per cent of tax money goes for general administration, including fire and police protection and engineering expenses.

Bond payments and interest, the next largest average expense, takes 16.7 per cent of city taxes. Streets and street lighting take an average of 15.9 per cent in the 17 cities surveyed.

Other spending includes 7 per cent for garbage, 4.9 per cent for auditorium, 1.6 for recreation, 3.1 for cemetery, 6.6 for parks, 3.5 for water and 4.9 for library.

Bond and interest payments ran higher in some cities, the council said. In Crete they amounted to 40.8 per cent and in Chadron, 39.3 per cent of the total property tax.

Hastings, however, had a low of 1.8 per cent for debt service with the result, at least in part, that it was able to devote 64 cents out of the tax dollar to general administration.

Based on 1954-55 levies, the council listed these percentages of spending for (1) general administration, (2) streets and (3) bonds and interest, respectively, in the representative cities:

Expanding Mental Health Program Tribute To State

OMAHA (AP)—“One of the most satisfying things in my experience has been dealing with the State Legislature.”

Surprisingly, those are the words of a man who had to go to the Legislature for money.

The speaker is Dr. Cecil Wittson, Nebraska's mental health director. His words put into a nutshell one of the big reasons the state mental health program is beginning to attract attention for what it is doing instead of what it is not doing.

Though some sour notes have been heard, a working harmony between the Legislature, the Board of Control, under which the mental health facilities operate, the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, the State Health Department, the governor and the Nebraska State Medical Assn. underlies what is being done today.

Institute Praised

Here are some of the things that have been happening:

1. A new $1.5 million Psychiatric Institute described as the most advanced building of its kind in the nation, has been opened. It is the GHQ of the state-wide mental health system.

2. The Legislature voted a $2 million increase for mental health institutions for the current biennium. The amount looks bigger when you consider that Nebraska is a state of less than 3 million persons.

3. The Board of Control authorized higher salary scales for psychiatrists and clinic directors. Salary scales are $12,000 to $15,000 for board-certified psychiatrists. The recently named superintendent of the Hastings State Hospital will get $16,600.

4. Groundwork is being laid for seven new clinics — “receiving hospitals” for the mentally ill — that will mean close-at-hand help for more people. They are under direction of Dr. Thaddeus Krush, new director of community services for mental health. Their aim is diagnosis and intensive treatment rather than long-term custodial care, and their facilities may be used by private psychiatrists.

Unique Law

Wittson likes to point to Nebraska's “unique law” which makes it mandatory that regents of the state university and the control board “co-operate so as to make available an interchange of facilities of the Nebraska state hospitals and the college of medicine for teaching and treatment purposes.”

The University Hospital, college of medicine and the psychiatric institute are just a stone's throw from each other in Omaha's rapidly growing mid-town medical center.

The other day when Dr. Robert Felix, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, lectured at the institute, he found he was also being heard and questioned by members of the staff of the Norfolk State Hospital 112 miles away. A special conference telephone hookup is used to share the services of the institute faculty and visiting lecturers with Norfolk. Soon it will extend to the state hospitals at Lincoln and Hastings. Some refinements of this linkup between the mental health facilities are in the works.

Dr. Wittson says the staff of experts concentrated at the psychiatric institute “are on a par with any staff in the country,” no other midwestern state has a full staff of central office specialists.

After looking over the teaching, treatment and research facilities of the institute, Dr. Felix complimented the “foresight of the Board of Control and the Legislature for buying this and going ahead with it.”

What It Takes

“This,” he said, “is what it takes to get and hold good doctors: money and facilities.”

That was music to the ears of public officials who have been hearing repeated warnings that Nebraska institutions were critically short on psychiatrists and related professional people with the situation getting worse instead of better.

“Ours is a long-range program, and you can't show results over night,” says Gov. Victor Anderson. “But I am satisfied with the progress being made.”

State Senator Otto Liebers, a member of the Legislature's budget committee, admits “We have a long way to go.”

Meet Star Carrier Mike Teater

Mike Teater has built a fine paying business delivering The Lincoln Star in Table Rock, Neb.

He now earns his own spending money and has purchased some of his own clothes. Mike thinks a Star route is the best because it gives him his after-school hours for other school activities. He is in the sixth grade and plays the drums in the school band.

Mike Teater

Mike has made several out-of-town trips with the band. Expenses such as shoes and a uniform of $5 were supplied from his profits. Mike's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. John Carter, are very happy with the business training he is getting. He has never asked them for money since taking over his route.

Handling money has taught Mike such things as making deposits, paying bills, various safe ways to send money through the mail, how to shop and how to make a wise purchase.

Mike likes all sports. He plays on the boys' baseball team. He is a member of the Good News Club, sings in his church choir and is helping to organize a sports club.

Basin Finances 'In Good Shape'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Missouri Basin financial fund is “in good shape,” E. G. Nielsen, the Bureau of Reclamation's assistant commissioner of irrigation and power, told a House interior subcommittee.

“Our study shows that all projects presently constructed, all projects presently under construction and those contemplated within our 6-year program for the Missouri Basin will maintain the fund in good shape,” he said.

This fund comprises profits from sale of power generated by federal Missouri River dams, with the money used to pay federal portions of the costs of irrigation projects.

Ex-Governor Cochran Completes Long Public Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert Le Roy Cochran, former governor of Nebraska and for several years a Budget Bureau official, wound up 44 years of public service Friday.

Cochran will be 70 years old Saturday, Friday, for the last time, he made his customary 3-mile walk from his hotel to his desk in the executive offices across the street from the White House.

For the last seven years he has been a special assistant in the Budget Bureau in the field of water resources. His associates in the resources and civil works division gave him a farewell luncheon Friday, at which he was presented a gift and a scroll.

Gov. and Mrs. Cochran will be honored at a Sunday reception by the Nebraska State Society of Washington.

They're planning to leave by car

Wednesday for Lincoln for a week's visit before going to visit other relatives in Arizona and California. The Cochrans haven't decided yet just where they'll make their home.

Cochran's public service began in January, 1912, when he went to work for the state engineer's office in Nebraska. He was there 20 years, the last 12 as state engineer.

As a Democrat, he was elected governor of Nebraska in 1934, 1936 and 1938.

Stocks End Lower Despite Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—Recovery late in the session Friday helped the stock market make a good showing, but it closed lower nevertheless.

The market began mixed and then declined. Prices never were depressed to any great extent, and a late recovery reduced the net loss considerably.

Prices were off around $2 at the outside while gains of $1 were found in significant areas of the list.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 20 cents at $173.20.

It was off $1.16 Thursday. The rise Tuesday and Wednesday added $3.10 to the average.

The industrial component lost only 10 cents while railroads were off 30 cents and utilities came to 1,800,000 shares, compared with 1,800,000 shares traded Thursday.

Penn-Texas was off 1/4 at 18 1/2 and Fairbanks Morse was down 1/4 at 46. Penn-Texas announced it had purchased a large block of Fairbanks Morse stock with the aim of placing its own representative on the board.

International Business Machines, off 1/4 Thursday as it settled an anti-trust suit brought by the government, lost 2 1/4 Friday at $73 1/4.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly lower on volume of 630,000 shares compared with 660,000 Thursday.
